My Daddy Matters Because...

Health Canada's national project on Fathering: "My Daddy Matters Because..." wishes to recognize the contributions of the members of the Research Subcommittee who have worked in conjunction with the research teams to produce the following project deliverables:

- A national father survey in both official languages
- A 'User Index': a hard copy directory of all the collected activities, services, resources, or programs for fathers
- A database of all the collected survey information
- A Research Report aimed at various key stakeholders

On behalf of Health Canada's National Project Fund on Fathering, "My Daddy Matters Because...", the project wishes to acknowledge the outstanding contributions of the following members of the project's research sub committee and the 2 hired Research teams:

- Gilles Forget: Institut de santé publique du Québec
- Marie-Josée Lafontaine: Researcher, Institut de santé publique du Québec.
- Annie Devault, Ph.D.: Professeure, Département de travail social et des sciences sociales, Université du Québec en Outaouais
- Sarah Allen, Ph. D.: University of Guelph, Family Relations and Applied Nutrition
- Ed Bader: Coordinator, Focus on Fathers, Catholic Community Services of York Region
- Debbie Jarvis: Abbotsford Community Services, School District #34

The project also wishes to recognize the efforts of HyperActive Productions' Data Specialist, Alex Keyserlingk, who has provided tremendous guidance and support for both the merging of the project's databases and the production of the 'User Index'.

Our many thanks to the "My Daddy Matters Because..." national project advisory committee and their regional representatives for the thoughtful comments and support they gave us throughout the research committee work.

The project also wishes to thank the survey respondents who took the time to fill out the national survey making the 'User Index' a very rich and varied document.

Lastly and most importantly, the financial support provided by Health Canada's CAPC/CPNP National Project Fund to the national project: "My Daddy Matters Because..." (Project Number: 6786-15-2002-4550009) is significantly appreciated.

Thank you,

Tim Paquette
Project Coordinator

My Daddy Matters Because...
HEALTH CANADA'S
NATIONAL PROJECT FUND
On Fathering

According to the previous National Project Fund on fathers completed in 2000 entitled On Fathers' Ground, Camil Bouchard states:

"The job of a father is this: to help his children develop --to teach them to express and master their emotions; to avoid physiological distress; to provide a context for their experiences; to help them persevere, reach goals and take on responsibilities; and to instil the roles of citizen, partner, and parent. In short, it is to fill their bellies with bread, their brains with wisdom and their hearts with love and courage."

Health Canada's National Project Fund has funded a new project on fathering entitled "My Daddy Matters Because..." (2002-2004). An Advisory Committee composed of 12 members representing each of Canada's 7 regions directs this project. The Project intends to build on On Fathers' Ground by providing CAPC/CPNP projects across Canada with the information necessary to both improve services to fathers and to make better, evidence-based decisions with respect to choosing activities, services, resources, or programs for fathers. More specifically, the project mandate intends to:

- Identify effective practice in Canada
- Develop a national social marketing campaign
- Reinforce community mobilization across Canada
- Develop a body of research literature
- Produce a valuable "How To" toolkit for use in pilot sites

The following 'User Index' is the result of a national survey sent to 1015 projects and organizations across Canada in the spring of 2003 with a response rate of 38%. This survey is part of the effort to identify effective practices within CAPC/CPNP projects and other father service providers across Canada.

The results from the national survey indicate that 251 organizations in Canada provide activities or services or resources or programs for fathers.

The 'User Index' organizes the survey information in two ways:

1. The Main Organization List: For each geographic region, the user will find the name and coordinates of the organization and what kind of resources, services, activities or programs it offers to fathers.

Geographic Regions in the 'User Index' include the following Health Canada defined regions:

- Alberta
- British Columbia
- Prairies (Manitoba & Saskatchewan)
- Atlantic Canada (PEI, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Newfoundland & Labrador)
- Northern Canada (Yukon, NWT & Nunavut)
- Ontario
- Quebec

2. Target Group: The resources are organized according to the target population for their activities, services, resources or programs. The following target groups of fathers have been used to organize the 'User Index':

- New Dads/Expectant Fathers
- Dads with children 0 –6 years of age
- Dads with children 6 –12 years of age
- Dads with children 12 –18 years of age
- Young Dads
- Aboriginal Dads
- Dads with Special Needs Children
- Single Fathers/ Fathers Not Living with Children
- Immigrant Dads
- Non-biological Dads
- Gay Dads

The project's expectation for the 'User Index' is that CAPC/CPNP managers or staff from across Canada will be able to quickly and simply locate an organization providing fathering activities, services, resources, or programs by geographic region or by the type of target father being served.

For example, if the user wishes to find an activity or service or resource or program (ASRP) in British Columbia, the user would simply go to the Main Organization Index on Page 2 and locate British Columbia in the directory (Page 11) or the user could locate the tab for British Columbia located on the right side of the directory and go directly to that section: pages 11-14. The user will then have located all the ASRP's for British Columbia listed from pages 11 to page 14. Another example is a user that is interested in finding an activity or service or resource or program (ASRP) for a specific target group of fathers, for example young fathers. The user would go to page 3 and look in the father program list and search until the young fathers index is found. In this example: Young Fathers' Index Pages 50 to 53. The other option is the user could locate the 'tab' for Young Fathers and simply turn to that section, once again pages 50-53.

Both of these search methods, by geographic region or by target population of father being served, enable the user to discover the most current activities or resources or services or programs being offered in the nation. In addition, the 'User Index' will provide a contact name and coordinates for the user to find out more information about a specific project or organization's activities or services, resources or programs. This will greatly enhance the user's project's capacity to make a well-informed decision with respect to activities or services or resources or programs for fathers.

Equipped with this information from the 'User Index', the CAPC/CPNP project manager or staff will be able link with other projects or organizations that provide activities or services or resources or programs for fathers.

The user will have full confidence that the information provided is the most current in the country as of May 2003.

The User Index is organized in two ways:

- 1) Geographic Region: a listing of the organizations that provide fathering activities, resources services, or programs by Geographic region
- 2) Target Fathers: a listing of the organizations that provide fathering activities, resources, services, or programs for a specific target population, such as new dads, young dads, or Aboriginal dads, etc.

Therefore, if you are looking for organizations that provide fathering services in Ontario, simply look in the category under "Ontario Region" to find an alphabetized list of organizations in Ontario that offer activities, services, resources, or programs to fathers. Similarly, if you are looking for organizations that provide services to "New Dads", simply look under the "New Dads" category to find a list of organizations providing activities, services, resources, or programs for "New Dads" arranged by geographic region.

Services, Resources, Activities, Programs, and Geographic Regions are defined in the following manner:

Services include: day care for fathers in need, toy lending library, home visits, outreach, drop-in play group, child care and activities during father's meetings, transportation assistance, computer access, website to promote involved fathering, supervised visits, court support, referral agent, advocacy, clothing exchange, gym passes to work out, parent relief resources, food bank, community kitchen

Resources include: Newsletters, posters, booklets, workbooks, books, pamphlets, and videos

Activities include: Father-child day trips (zoo, bowling, parks, camping), Breakfast or Morning with Dad (crafts/activities, cooking with dad), Gym Day (swim days, floor hockey), social events (Father's Days celebrations, Christmas Party), Saturday family activity day, picnics, BBQ's.

Programs are organized into three categories:

- Educational Programs include: parenting courses for fathers, public education seminars, workshops, life skills training, education/career planning, pre/postnatal programs, peers educating peers group.
- Support Programs include: support groups (Men's group, Just for Dad's group, Anger Management Group, Blended Family Group, Men's Mentor Group) one on one support, support network, discussion groups.
- Counselling Programs include: couple counselling, separation counselling, therapy group, relationship counselling, etc.

Appendix B – Survey Questionnaire

"My Daddy Matters because..."

NATIONAL PROJECT FUND
On Fathering

According to the previous National Project Fund on fathers entitled On Fathers' Ground, Camil Bouchard states: "The job of a father is this: to help his children develop --to teach them to express and master their emotions; to avoid physiological distress; to provide a context for their experiences; to help them persevere, reach goals and take on responsibilities; and to instil the roles of citizen, partner, and parent. In short, it is to fill their bellies with bread, their brains with wisdom and their hearts with love and courage."

Health Canada's National Project has funded a new project on fathering entitled "My Daddy Matters because..." This title invites reflection on the role of the father from a child's perspective. (September 2002 - March 2004). The project is directed by an Advisory Committee composed of 12 members that have been chosen to represent each of Canada's 7 regions. The Project intends to build on the previous National Project related to fathering (entitled On Fathers' Ground) and to enable CAPC/CPNP projects across Canada to improve services to fathers. The project intends to consolidate, translate, and transfer the information contained in the previous National Project by:

- Identifying Effective Practice
- Developing a Social Marketing Campaign
- Reinforcing Community Mobilization

To help us identify effective practices, your input is very important. We ask you to take a few minutes and complete the following questionnaire and return it before February 27th..

Many, many thanks!
